

This is just about the most discreet wall mounted radiator you can buy. For the true minimalist, Carat is the ultimate in clean lined elegance. Its flat panel simplicity will suit any contemporary setting from the modern apartment to the art gallery or high tech office. This tough, hard wearing heat emitter has a strong geometric form which complements efficient and uncluttered environments, and provides an impressive heat output. There are a wide range of models in the Carat range, giving the interior designer the maximum scope for positioning the radiator in keeping with the room's overall décor. Stocked in single and double profile, 400 & 550mm high, and up to 2000mm in length

Triple, double and single radiator versions are also available by special order, in four heights; 250, 400, 550 and 950mm. Lengths start at 405mm, and go up to an amazing 3005mm long, achieving a versatility not normally associated with minimalist radiators in this price bracket. Top grilles and welded side panels on the doubles add to the strength, ease of cleaning and overall streamlined appearance.
